

Matthew Goldstone is the Assistant Academic Dean and Assistant Professor at the Academy for Jewish Religion (AJR) where he teaches advanced courses in Talmud and Jewish law. He is the author of The Dangerous Duty of Rebuke: Leviticus 19:17 in Early Jewish and Christian Interpretation and co-author of Binding Fragments of Tractate Temurah and the Problem of Lishana Aharina. His recent research focuses on understanding the Gospel of Matthew within its Jewish exegetical context. He has been involved in several initiatives at AJR to integrate science into the curriculum, including co-teaching a course on Critical Issues in Jewish Law and Science with a focus on genetics.